SENATOR BORAH ASKS PUBLICITY AT ARMS MEET

"Let Sunlight of Publicity Beat
In Upon Dark and Secret
Places," He Says

Asbury, Park, N. J., Aug. 29.—Senator Borah, of Idaho, urged an audience here tonight to help "get a little more democracy in foreign affairs." The Idaho senator, although an advocate of armament limitation, predicted that the coming conference of armament would be a complete failure unless public opinion unmistakably demanded reduction of navies and armies.

"Pry open the doors of the conference," said Senator Borah. "Let the sunlight of publicity beat in upon the dark and secret places. Let us know what's going on before it has been concluded in order that public opinion may have its molding and direct effect. Above all, let responsibility be fixed and then let public opinion lash from power those who betray the cause."

"Disarmament will be but a delusion, a fraud veneered with tepid purposes and false promises unless there is found demanding it and supporting it what amounts to a moral and social revolution. It will come only at the command of the people, united and determined, persistent and untiring."

TO ORGANIZE LEAF TOBACCO GROWERS NEXT MONTH

Judge Bingham Expected To Open Drive in Western Kentucky

Owensboro, Aug. 28.—Early next month efforts to organize the tobacco growers of the Green River, Stemming and One-Sucker Tobacco districts will be started.

The first step toward organizing the tobacco growers in these sections will be a meeting of the committee appointed in the spring for the purpose of pushing such an organization. This committee will meet either here or in Henderson. This committee is composed of Dr. Fred Mutchler, Bowling Green; Louis Hancock, Providence; Henry S. Berry and F. K. Mossley, Owensboro.

Mr. Moseley, who is secretary of the committee, has written to Judge Bingham, of Louisville, who is promoting the effort to organize Kentucky tobacco growers, to ascertain when he can come here with the experts and data to be used in putting over an organization in this part of the state. Judge Bingham has not yet returned from abroad, according to the reply of his secretary, but the matter will be taken up with him upon his return.

WYSOX WALLOPS PROVO

After playing and defeating a majority of the best teams in Muhlenberg, Butler and Ohio counties, the fast Provo first team rushed out to Wysox last Saturday to attend to "Ty Cobb's team." Upon their arrival they found that "Ty" had pruned and groomed his aggregation until he had the goods. After a hard fight of one and one-half hours the Provo boys had a score of 3 to 2, in favor of Wysox, starting them in the face, with Wysox at the bat in the last half of the ninth. It was a fast game featured by classy playing by both teams. But Wysox proved they had the goods and delivered them. Provo is considered one of the best ball teams in this part of the country, but they ran against a snag when they tackled Wysox. They were a little disappointed, of course, after having told the folks what they were going to do for our boys, but everything went off smoothly and the large crowd enjoyed the game to the limit. Each Wysox player did fine work. The local line-up was as follows: Fulkerson, p; Nanney, c; Moore, lb.; Ward, 2b.; Crunk, 3b.; Nanney, ss.; Davenport, If.; Shultz, cf.; Overton, rf.

Provo says Wysox can't do it again. Oh well; Call around again sometime.

DOOM OF BEER AS

TONIC SEALED

Washington, Aug. 25.—Beer, as a medicine, was doomed today by the treasury unless congress after recess should fail to enact the Willis-Campbell anti-beer bill.

In conference with Internal Revenue Commissioner Blair, Secretary Mellon decided that the regulations already drawn, which would permit physicians to prescribe a case of beer at a time with no limit on the number of prescriptions should be held up by the treasury pending determination of the medical beer question by congress.

In reaching this decision it was explained the treasury took the attitude that issuance of the regulations in the face of what was regarded as certain hostile legislation would be to no purpose especially as brewers have shown no desire to have the beer rules promulgated or to begin operations before congress finally accepts or rejects the anti-beer bill.

MAN SHOT TWICE, OWES LIFE TO 'MISPLACED' HEART

Louisville, Aug. 26.—If the heart of Virgil Mayer, 39 years old, is in its proper place in his body he ought to be dead, according to all rules and precedents.

Mayer, who was found, shot, with his wife dead at his side, at his rooms in the building on the northeast corner of Preston and Walnut Streets Wednesday night, was still alive at the City Hospital last night, although physicians said he could live but a few minutes after they looked at his wounds.

Indicating a circle where the heart of Mayer ought to be, Dr. Herman Mahaffey showed that both bullets from a 38-caliber revolver found their marks inside this spot, less than three inches apart, and passed through the body. That one or both of the bullets went through the heart, if it's in the right place, is almost a certainty according to the surgeon. Owing to the conditions of the patient and the congestion of the area near the wounds, it was impossible for physicians to determine the position of Mayer's heart last night.

Arguments for the release of Threlkeld, who is 74 years old and is said to be afflicted with cancer, were made by Attorney E. B. Hoover, Nicholasville, and three others. The family of the slain man has asked the Governor for a hearing before he acts on the pardon petition.

Backache? Kidneys weak? Distressed with urinary ills? Want a reliable kidney remedy? Don't have to look far. Use what Hartford people recommend. Every street in Hartford has its cases. Here's one Hartford man's experience.

Let Lewis Brown, farmer, Hartford road, tell it. He says: "About fourteen years ago, I found Doan's Kidney Pills a mighty good medicine for kidney trouble. I had an attack that laid me up for several days. My kidneys had been weak and irregular for some time and finally my back got to hurting. Sharp, shooting pains darted all through my back. I was so lame across the small of my back I could not get up after stooping. The action of my kidneys was so irregular, I had to pass the secretions many times, night and day. I took several boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills, and they cured me. I have had no return of the trouble."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Brown had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y. Adv.

GIANT DIRIGIBLE FLAME-
WRECKED; FALLS INTO RIVER21 Americans On Board; Less Than Ten Survivors,
Say Dispatches

Hull, England, Aug. 24.—Disaster overtook the giant dirigible ZR-2 late this afternoon. The monster airship exploded over the River Humber here, falling into the stream a mass of flames, the explosion and fall bringing death to many of the officers and men on board, among whom were five American commissioned officers and nearly a dozen other Americans of lesser ranking, in addition to the regular British crew.

The American officers on board the dirigible were Commander Louis H. Maxfield, Washington, D. C.; Lieut. Commander Valentine N. Bieg, of Bryn-Mawr, Pa.; Lieut. Commander Emory Coil of Marietta, Ohio; Lieut. Marcus H. Esterly, Washington, D. C.; Lieut. Henry W. Hoyt, Clearwater, Fla., and Lieut. Charles G. Little, Newburyport, Mass.

The number of fatalities has not yet been definitely ascertained, but twelve bodies are said to have been recovered and it is believed that not less than ten on board were saved.

The official report of the accident follows:

"The ZR-2 was wrecked with heavy loss this afternoon over the Yorkshire coast. Following two terrible explosions the airship buckled and fell in flames into the Humber River. There were twenty-one Americans on board. The ZR-2 had begun her final trial flight on Tuesday morning and was believed prepared to land when disaster took place. The explosion took place as the balloon was passing over Hull and so terrible was the concussion that many pedestrians in the streets were swept from their feet. The shock from the detonation was felt fifty miles distant. Seven-thirty tonight it was reported that there were only six survivors from the ZR-2.

"The airship was flying at great height when the disaster overtook her. She was seen to emerge from the clouds and as the explosion occurred broke in two parts, one part rose in the air and the other fell in the Humber. The descent of the falling half was unaccountably slow considering the weight of the material."

The accident occurred while the ZR-2 was on what was intended to be her final trial trip before being turned over by her British builders to the United States Navy for her flight across the Atlantic.

The airship set out from Howden early yesterday, was prevented by a storm from landing last night and was cruising about today making further tests before proceeding to Pulham in Norfolk, where it was intended to moor her.

The dirigible was floating easily over this city shortly after 5:30 o'clock this afternoon, all being seemingly well with her, when, according to survivors, a sharp turn was given her rudder and she swerved in toward the Humber.

Apparently the strain of the turn was too much for her. Crowds gathered in the streets of Hull intently watching the movements of the air monster, saw a sudden flash and heard the report of tremendous explosions, violent enough to shake the buildings beneath and break windows in the city store fronts.

Then the airship appeared to break in two and burst into flames, the crowd beneath meanwhile, running panic-stricken in all directions to escape the wreck of the falling monster, which it seemed would drop directly upon the city.

The fall of the dirigible, however, was into the river, close to the shore, and its piers, where it settled into the water.

Owensboro, Ky., Aug. 25.—Grief-stricken by the news of the death of her son, Robert Coons, the only Kentuckian in the crew of the ill-fated ZR-2, Mrs. Kate Coons of Owensboro sits in her little flag-decked cottage on Walnut Street surrounded by a few intimate friends who seek to console her. News dispatches have been confirmed by her receipt of a telegram from the Bureau of Navigation that her son lost his life in the greatest air tragedy of time. Her only remaining prayer is that the body may be recovered and sent home to her.

"Grieved as I am, I am proud of Robert," said Mrs. Coons. "At first I hoped that he might be saved, but I knew that he would stick to his post of duty and in such a terrible accident this meant death. He was a good boy, loyal and true. His ambition was to help bring home the big ship. I was happy in the thought of the honor that was to be his and that I was soon to see him again until word of this horrible accident came."

Young Coons was 25 years old, well known and generally liked and admired here.

PERRYVILLE MAN NAMED
PRESIDENT OF STATE BANKERS

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 25.—Claude D. Minor, Perryville, cashier of the People's Bank & Trust Company, was elected president of the Kentucky Bankers' Association at the final session this morning of a two-days' convention in the Seelbach auditorium, Mr. Minor succeeds Charles Ellis, Sturgis.

Other officers elected were: Treasurer, Ben Grogan, Murray; vice president of the national bank section, Frank Dugan, Louisville, and vice president of the State bank section, C. N. Manning, Lexington. Harry Smith, Louisville, was re-elected secretary. F. P. Stum, Madisonville; L. D. Jones, Frankfort, and F. H. Bead, Bowling Green, were elected members of the Executive Committee for three years.

Following the election Mr. Minor took the chair. In his address he urged the members to make the organization a 100 per cent one and increase the enrollment. At a meeting of the Executive Committee S. H. Boyle, Danville, was elected chairman. Kennedy Helm was re-appointed attorney for the association.

Among the resolutions passed by the bankers before adjourning were ones commending the President, praising the effort that is being made by Congress "to revise the Federal tax law to the end that the citizens may be relieved of as much of the burden of taxation as is consistent with the requirements of the Government," urging bankers to take an active part in political life in order to prevent legislative evils and urging the extension of education.

A. S. Whitt, president of the Winchester Bank, was elected vice president for Kentucky of the American Bankers' Association at a meeting this morning of the bankers who are members of the national organization. Mr. Whitt succeeds Mrs. C. E. Hearin of Clay, Ky., who was the first woman to be elected an officer of the national association.

Mrs. Hearin heads Committee. Mrs. Hearin was named chairman of the association's Nominating Committee. Other officers elected were, Vice president for the trust section, G. E. Best, Harrodsburg; vice president for the savings bank section, Hugh L. Rose, Louisville; vice president for the national bank section, A. M. Larkin; vice president for the State bank section, W. S. Snow, Providence.

J. N. Kehoe of Maysville in an address delivered at the meeting of the members of the American Bankers' Association urged that more of the bankers of the State become members of the national organization.

Louisville banks, John S. Crenshaw said, insisting that he is loyal to them, do not co-operate with the banks out in the State to the extent that they should, especially with agricultural financing. Mr. Crenshaw is chairman of the bankers' Agricultural Committee and vice president of the Bank of Hopkinsville.

Charles W. Ellsworth, vice president of the Hibernia Bank & Trust Company, New Orleans, contrasted the banker of the past with the man of today, emphasizing the intensely human characteristics of the man who has succeeded the banker of other years, dressed in a Prince Albert coat and a plug hat and about as warm in his attitude toward mankind as an icicle.

The banker of 1921 is efficient and capable, Mr. Ellsworth continued, and has his office out in the open where he can be approached readily. The World War gave him a great opportunity to show the kind of stuff of which he is made and, with his splendid record in Liberty Loan drives and Red Cross work, he did not fall down on the job.

Walter Howell, president of the Federal Land Bank, Louisville, in an address delivered today insisted that time has shown that the Federal land banks are of benefit to country banks. They bring into the country banker's community additional capital that can be used for purposes other than paying for land, he said; assist the farmer in making himself more prosperous, and where the cashier of a country bank also is secretary-treasurer of the local National Farm Loan Association add to his income.

HOUSE, 169-81, BACKS
KILLING HOME BREWStanley Search and Seizure Amendment, Adopted By Senate, Also Passed

Washington, Aug. 26.—The Senate and House fought another fast and furious round over the Campbell-Willis Anti-Beer Bill Tuesday.

The House, by a rising vote of 169 to 81, ratified the conference agreement under which the Stanley search and seizure amendment, adopted by the Senate, is destroyed along with the House substitute interpreted as legalizing home brewing and distilling.

Dry forces then compelled the Senate to take up the conference report. Wet leaders gave notice that they would fight it to the last ditch and prepared to filibuster all night, if necessary, to prevent a vote.

Prospects for a recess are as uncertain as ever. If the "drys" insist on passage of the anti-beer bill the "wets" stand ready, they declare, to talk indefinitely, even though the recess programme is blocked.

Votes to Expunge. Before agreeing to the conference report, the House by a vote of 181 to 3, adopted a resolution by Representative W. H. Newton, Minnesota, calling on the Senate to expunge from the record the remarks of Senator James Reed, Missouri, criticizing Representative A. J. Volstead, Minnesota, leader of the radical drys.

The Newton resolution characterized Mr. Reed's remarks as "improper, unparliamentary, and a reflection on the character of Mr. Volstead."

It is the first time in history, so far as official records show, that the House has taken such action. On two previous occasions, however, it censured a Representative for making uncomplimentary statements about Senators in the Senate. In both incidents the offending remarks were eliminated from the Congressional Record by a House vote.

What Mr. Reed Said. Here are some of the things Mr. Reed said about Mr. Volstead to which the House takes exception: "I do not know what his ancestry may be but I do know that I have gazed on celebrated conspirators of the past, the countenances of those who have led in fanatical crusades, the burners of witches, the executioners who applied the torch of persecution, and I saw them all again when I looked at the author of this bill.

"I have no respect for the man who puts the discovery of a bottle of beer above the Constitution. I have more respect for the anarchist who, in his ignorance and blindness, stands upon a soap box declaiming against all Government than I have for the man who will in this body or in the House swear before the Almighty that he will preserve the Constitution and then employ the authority and power the people have vested in him to preserve the Constitution for the purpose of destroying that sacred instrument.

"A man who thinks more of 'getting' a bootlegger than he does of preserving the palladium of human liberty is not fit to be in a legislative body and not fit to be a citizen of the United States."

Charges Bootlegger Sympathy. Representative Frank W. Mondell, Republican leader in the House, sharply criticized those of his colleagues who, he said, were "placing their sympathies for rum runners above the Constitution." He declared that "some persons" had never discovered the Fourth Amendment until it affected bootlegging.

Representative George S. Graham, Pennsylvania, Republican, vigorously protested against Mr. Mondell's insinuations. He strongly defended the right of an American citizen to resist unwarranted search.

A motion of Representative John P. Hill, Maryland, Republican, to reject the report and send it back to conference was defeated, 182 to 54.

Plans Recess On Time. When the Senate adjourned late tonight until 10 o'clock tomorrow the anti-beer bill was still under discussion with prospects of considerable more talk before reaching a vote, if that should prove to be possible before the recess.

Adoption of the conference report was urged by Senator Knute Nelson, Republican, Minnesota, who declared that the brewers, having failed to bring back the "gentle drink" of wine and beer, were trying to get beer for the sick to keep the American race from perishing.

The early hour for the session tomorrow, leaders said, indicated the Senate still expected to carry out its recess plan on time.

CONGRESS AIDS FARM EXPORTS
BUT TURNS DOWN FARM LOAN

Washington, Aug. 24.—A complete agreement on terms of the agriculture exports credits bill which has been in controversy between the House and Senate was reached today by conferees. The disagreement outside of the controversy over the anti-beer bill was one of the principal obstacles to the recess provisionally arranged for Congress.

The Senate put aside the anti-beer bill long enough tonight to adopt the conference report on the agricultural credits bill already agreed to by the House and sent to the President for his approval.

The measure, as agreed to, empowers the War Finance Corporation to issue $1,500,000,000 in its own bonds, and to lend $1,000,000,000 for financing agricultural exports.

The House refused to agree to Senate provisions which would allow the corporation to lend directly to European purchasers of the commodities, but the compromise will allow the Finance Corporation to lend to anybody provided satisfactory collateral is furnished to it for the sums advanced.

The extra $500,000,000 of War Finance Corporation securities authorized by the bill, it is expected, will be sold and the money utilized for purchase of railroad securities.

Conferees also agreed to eliminate the Senate provision allowing the War Finance Corporation to lend $200,000,000 to the Federal Farm Land Bank.

STATE SENATOR HARRISS
DIES AT VERSAILLES

Versailles, Ky., Aug. 24.—State Senator Charles M. Harriss, 48 years old, died at his home here at 9:45 o'clock tonight after a long illness.

He was a native of Anderson County and was educated in the public schools of Woodford County, Transylvania College, Lexington, and the University of Virginia.

Mr. Harriss had been Acting Governor of Kentucky and a Democratic leader in the State for several years. He was a member of the law firm of Wallace & Harriss, Versailles, and also was engaged in farming.

He belonged to a number of fraternal orders, among which are the Knights Templar, Knights of Pythias, Odd Fellows, Red Men, and the Kappa Alpha and Phi Delta Phi fraternities.

He was married to Miss Jane Dedman Nuchols November 16 1898. She died November 16, 1903. He was married to Miss Elizabeth Hurst Phelps December 23, 1912. He was elected Senator from the Twenty-second Senatorial District in 1917.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running ear or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists, too. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

We don't want to appear vindictive, but after having been twitted by the Hartford Republican upon the fact that our recent editorial on Federal Farm Loans was a "fizzle" in view of the Administration's grand-stand promise of immediate legislation in aid of the farmers, we cannot refrain from calling the attention of the Ohio
County farmers as well as the Republican to the fact that the muchheralded aid has not materialized.
Congress is taking a month's recess after its strenuous labors in behalf of the poor down-trodden capitalists

Unobtrusively and quietly, just before starting on their vacation, the House and Senate conferees on the Agricultural Credits bill made a final report entirely eliminating all provision for the advancement by the War Finance Corporation of any sums to the Federal Farm Loan Board for the purpose of making long-time amortized loans to individual farmers. Under the provisions of the bill loans are made only to marketing associations, individuals and banks engaged in the business of or aiding in the exportation of agricultural products. Thus the trail of the Administration's broken pledges is lengthened. Alas;
the poor farmer! They knew him well, and cultivated him,—before the election.

JUNIOR JUDGING CONTEST

One of the most spirited events to be held at the Kentucky State Fair this year will be the Junior Judging Contest in which the boy and girl champion livestock judges of the state will compete. From the reports made by C. W. Buckler, state leader of club work, from the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture the competition will bring out some excellent work done by the young folk.

Mr. Buckler was recently appointed superintendent of the State Fair club department. He has been constantly in touch with the boys and girls of the clubs over the state and has directed the elimination contests which have been held in various counties.

The Louisville Livestock Exchange has donated $300 which will be awarded in the livestock judging contest to teams and individuals.

Hogging Off Corn Best Way To Fatten Porkers

With indications pointing toward a low price for corn and a fair price for hogs during the coming fall, Kentucky farmers can market their grain and produce pork in no better way than by turning hogs into their corn fields to hog off the crop, according to swine specialists at the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station. This method of preparing swine for the market involves less labor in feeding and in addition results in the greatest returns from manure and crop residues. The hogs are also kept in a more healthy condition and should make more rapid gains when fed in this manner. Results obtained in station experiments show that it is best to use hogs weighing about 100 pounds in hogging off fields. If the animals are smaller than this they are unable to get the corn down while larger animals do not make as economical gains. The experiments showed that it paid to start hogging the corn down about the time it had passed the glazed stage, putting enough animals in the field to clean up the crop in about 35 or 40 days. Corn and soybeans should be hogged down about the time the beans are in the dough stage. According to results obtained by the station, tankage fed in a self feeder as a supplement to corn made the best combination for hogging-off purposes. This method of feeding resulted in an average daily gain of 1.47 pounds of pork on each of the animals. Corn and soybeans were next best, according to the experiments, and gave an average daily gain of a little more than a pound of pork.

Kentucky Manufacturers Low Per Cent Of Feeds

During 1920 Kentucky manufactured approximately one-half, and in some cases less than one-half, of the stock feeds of different kinds used in the State, according to a report which has just been made by J. D. Turner, head of the feeding stuffs department of the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station. The report shows that an average of 40 per cent of the wheat feeds, 53 per cent of the corn by-products feeds and only about 15 per cent of the stock feeds of all classes consumed during the year were manufactured in the State.

The State produced no oil mill by-products such as cottonseed meal, linseed oil meal, peanut meal and copra meal and no meat scraps, according to Mr. Turner. Only 10 per cent of the digester tankage used in the State were produced within her boundaries. There were a number of miscellaneous feed materials used in the State in a small way during the year but only a few of them had an appreciable production in the State, Mr. Turner said.

Taylor Farmers Purchase Outstanding Jersey Sires

Members of the Taylor County Co-operative Purebred Sire Association have purchased three outstanding Jersey sires as their first step in improving the dairy cattle of that county, according to a report of E. M. Prewitt, dairy field agent of the College of Agriculture who cooperated with the dairymen in perfecting the organization. All of the animals have as their mothers cows who have made records by producing from 450 to 500 pounds of butterfat a year. The association has 47 dairymen as members who will receive equal benefits from the animals by mating them to cows on the farms.

Carroll County farmers are planning to use more limestone on their farms this fall, according to County Agent G. C. Routt who reports that arrangements have been made to grind 1,600 tons. A goal of 2,000 tons to be used in the county has been set.

oOo

Jefferson County farmers cooperating with County Agent F.E. Merriam are planning to sow a large acreage of cover crops this fall, according to reports from the county. More than 200 acres have already been signed up to be sown with cover crops.

oOo

More than 80 Carroll County poultrymen have been taught how to distinguish between the heavy-laying and the loafer hen by means of eight demonstrations conducted by County Agent G. C. Routt in cooperation with the extension division of the College of Agriculture. Approximately 135 hens were removed from the 500 birds handled because they showed characteristic indications of having stopped laying.

PERSHING UPON THE Y. M. C. A.

General John J. Pershing spoke at the thirty-fourth annual dinner of the international Committee of the Young Men's Christian Association, held in New York, May 10, 1921, as follows:

"I am particularly happy to have this opportunity of meeting with the representatives of this great Christian organization. In the last three-quarters of a century, the influence of the Young Men's Christian Association has been extended practically to every corner of the globe. My own personal acquaintance with its endeavors has covered many years and many lands.

"It was in the World War that we came in closest touch with the organization. Your representatives were already in the field when our advance troops reached France. They were ready and anxious to be of every possible service. The army had to be organized, and a great general staff had to be built up to handle the multitude of details as to plans of operation, supply and transportation. It was in the midst of these preparations that I called up Mr. Carter to ask the Association to take charge of the army canteens to follow our troops; he responded promptly and entered upon the work as a duty.

"When its work came to be compared with that of other welfare organizations operating with far less responsibility and covering only special areas, there arose some unjust criticism of which other organizations too often took advantage. But as a matter of fact this feature of the work of the Young Men's Christian Association deserves great praise, and I should like to express here in this presence my deep appreciation of the results obtained.

"In the field of education, athletics and recreation after the Armistice, the Young Men's Christian Association took the lead, without any sort of question, and as a matter of fact about nine-tenths of the welfare work that was carried on in the A. E. F. was carried on under the direction and guidance of the Young Men's Christian Association. Due largely to its efforts, our men were given opportunities for improvement, travel and entertainment that aided us in upholding the high standards of conduct always maintained in our forces abroad.

Finally, I wish to express the belief that this Association will continue to grow in usefulness to humanity, and will early become a universally recognized force in our national life against which the powers of evil may not prevail."

McADOO OPPOSES HARDING MILLIONS TO THE RAILROADS

Washington, Aug. 27.—Disapproval of the Administration's railroad funding bill, recently reported to the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee, was expressed by William G. McAdoo, former Director General of Railroads, in a letter presented to the Senate Wednesday by Senator Stanley, Democrat, Kentucky, who requested Mr. McAdoo's views after the committee refused to hear him.

The Government is not "morally and legally bound," as stated by President Harding, to fund the $763,000,000 the railroads owe the Government for additions and betterments, Mr. McAdoo asserted. He declared "the President must have been misled into making such a statement," adding that the law provides for the funding only of "the remaining indebtedness" of the railroads, which he calculated at $263,000,000.

Payment of this balance, Mr. McAdoo said, may be deferred ten years by the railroads provided satisfactory security were given and 6 per cent interest was paid.

"This is the kind of settlement the law now authorizes and contemplates," Mr. McAdoo said, adding that when the roads were returned to private control they owed the Government $1,144,000,000 for additions and betterments, of which $381,000,000 already has been extended for a long period. He urged that before any further advances were made the railroads be required to abandon the "inefficiency of labor" claims, amounting, he estimated, to about $500,000,000.

Received $1,444,000,000

"I suppose you realize that in addition to the $1,144,000,000 the railroads owe the Government for 'additions and betterments' they have received additional loans under the Esch-Cummins bill of about $300,000,000, making a total of $1,444,000,000," Mr. McAdoo's letter said.

"Stripped of confusing nonessentials, what is now proposed is that the Government shall wait ten years for $763,000,000 the railroads owe it for betterments and improvements and pay immediately $500,000,000 to the railroads on account of claims for alleged under maintenance, etc., taking from the 180 or more railroads involved, with their varying degrees of financial responsibility, such securities as they may be able to provide; securities which in many instances may not be adequate to protect the Government against loss.

"This is not a question of 'legal and moral obligation' on the part of the United States to lend the railroads $500,000,000 more for ten years. It is a question of policy and should be considered from that standpoint only. For the adoption of such a policy the Administration must, of course, take the responsibility, but it should be candid about it. The public mind should not be confused by juggling of figures, manipulation of accounts or securities of governmental agencies."

IRONING BOARD SAVES 30 FROM TENEMENT FIRE

New York, Aug. 24.—Thirty persons, trapped on the fifth floor of a burning tenement house today, were piloted to safety over a thin ironing board, six inches wide at one end and nine inches at the other, which was held on the edge of two roofs, while the endangered persons, among them a woman 70 years of age and crippled by paralysis crawled across.

The helpless woman was pushed over by firemen. Meanwhile, from below and adjoining windows, firemen sent up two walls of water to keep the rescued and rescuers from choking with smoke and to keep the flames from destroying their bridge. After it was thought everybody had been taken over the roofs, it was found that one woman was missing. Firemen found her unconscious on the floor of her bedroom and carried her over the ironing board bridge to safety.

The fire did comparatively little damage, but it attacked the stairways and escape was thus shut off. Panic-stricken residents were about to jump from windows when the ironing board bridge was brought into service.

HAS IT ALL FIXED TO RESUME CROWN

Paris, Aug. 27.—Former Emperor Charles has planned with Admiral Horthy, the Hungarian Regent, a restoration of the crown in Hungary, says the Geneva correspondent of the Journal. The return of King Constantine to Greece is declared to have been made the precedent in the scheme for Charles' resumption of royal status. The Papal Nuncio in Berne, it is asserted, was the intermediary between Charles and the Regent.

Hungary will appear at the meeting of the Assembly of the League of Nations in Geneva next month and ask for admission, says the correspondent in outlining the alleged plan. In the event this appeal is granted, the Hungarian Parliament would be dissolved, and the Government would call for an election in which the dynastic question would be the principal issue. It is assumed by the Royalists that they would be victorious, and that the election would be followed by a call to Charles to take the Hungarian throne.

A veto on the part of the Entente, it is said, would be met by an appeal to the League of Nations, which would be asked to uphold the principle of self-determination, and permit Charles to reign in Hungary. The "little entente," composed of Czechoslovakia, Jugo-Slavia and

TREATY WITH GERMANY SIGNED IN BERLIN

America Retains Advantages and Rights Stipulated in Versailles Covenant

Washington, Aug. 25.—The treaty of peace with Germany negotiated by President Warren G. Harding and Secretary of State Charles Evans Hughes in lieu of the rejected Treaty of Versailles was signed in Berlin at 5 o'clock this afternoon and made public by the American State Department tonight.

The treaty carries out the stipulations of the peace resolution adopted by Congress and approved by the President of the United States, July 2, 1921, and provides that this Government shall have all the rights and advantages which were specified in that resolution.

The treaty explicitly provides that the United States shall be entirely dissociated from the League of Nations and not be bound by any action that the League has taken or may take in the future, and it binds Germany to all the important reparations and economic clauses, the disarmament provisions and other essential obligations insofar as they affect the United States, which were specified in the Versailles Treaty as approved by Allied and Associated Powers other than the United States.

Senate Recess Is Delay
The treaty does not become effective until ratified by the Senate of the United States, and until that time, diplomatic relations between the United States and Germany cannot be resumed.

Inasmuch as the Senate is now in recess until September 21, Mr. Harding cannot submit the treaty, but it will be sent to the Senate immediately when it reconvenes and ratification is confidently expected without much delay.

Members of the Foreign Relations Committee already have had the provisions of the treaty read and explained to them by the President and Mr. Hughes. Representatives of all Republican factions which developed during discussion of the Versailles treaty have declared themselves to be satisfied with the treaty and some of the Democratic leaders have expressed satisfaction. Opposition, therefore is expected to be little more than perfunctory from any source.

VAST AMOUNT OF UNTAXED WEALTH IN STATE

That there is a vast amount of untaxed wealth in the State is unquestioned as the State Tax Commission is authority for the statement that in 1917 there was not less than $3,500,000,000 taxable property in the State and subsequent estimates place the figures at not less than $5,000,000,000, which does not appear to be excessive, according to the census reports of the value of farming and mining property. The figures are suggestive:

Farm land and improvements valued at $1,511,901,077
Agricultural implements 48,354,857
Livestock 158,387,284

All the lands and improvements thereon in the State, exclusive of town lots, are assessed at only $735,804,734; agricultural implements at $12,762,038 and livestock at $83,314,699.

When it comes to mineral and timber lands the omitted values are still more striking, as the census reports 124,000,000 tons of unmined coal alone in the State of Kentucky, valued at $2,400,000,000 without considering the other valuable natural resources of the State.

Thus agricultural and mining property represents a value of over $4,000,000,000, and other property is certainly worth a billion more, making a total of $5,000,000,000 in value, of which less than one-half is now taxed.

In other States the taxable value of unmined mineral products is recognized and they are taxed as other property, and in one State the taxes on 2,000,000,000 tons of unmined iron ore produces a revenue of over $5,000,000 annually for State and local purposes, and iron ore is much less valuable per ton than coal.

It is only within the last ten years that minerals have been regarded as proper subjects for taxation, but the practice of imposing taxes on such property is now very generally observed and accepted by all concerned as reasonable and right.

Not only is the taxation of natural resources justifiable, but the effect of same on industrial development is so marked there seems to be absolutely no reason for not subjecting these valuable properties to taxation, and there are many reasons for taxing them as other property.

Large tracts of coal lands, acquired by corporations, syndicates and individuals, many not residing in or having other interests in the State, are being held for speculative purposes and are increasing in value because of the taxes paid on other property, and their possession in this form acts as a deterrent to development.

As long as these valuable properties can be held by reason of the nominal taxes and light carrying charges, based on the original cost, the owners will not develop nor sell to others who would, and this has been one of the chief retarding influences in the State of Kentucky.

Taxation of such properties has not interfered with their development elsewhere, but has stimulated it and, paradoxical as it may appear, has resulted in increasing and stabilizing values and the owners have found it to their interest to acquiesce and to co-operate with the taxing authorities in their assessment.

From the reports of the Tax Commissions in other States it appears the difficulty of arriving at the value of mineral and timber lands has been successfully overcome and it is much easier to assess unmined coal which lies in comparatively uniform measures in well-defined areas than ores which are found in pockets, troughs or lenses.

There are few coal properties in Kentucky where the owners are in ignorance of the available tonnage and many have been accurately surveyed and mapped and all of this information is within reach, as the law is very clear in providing for their listing for taxation.

A production tax on coal or other mineral products is indefensible as the consumer has to pay the tax, which is added to the price, and this form of taxation retards development by interfering with competition in inter-State transactions and tends to monopoly.

The tax on gasoline is an illustration as the signs on the supply stations give the price at so much per gallon and add "Tax one cent," which leaves no doubt as to who pays the tax. The price of gasoline is also higher in Kentucky than in Indiana just across the Ohio River.

While under the former tax laws only a few classes of property were really assessed for taxation and many of the owners of other kinds merely "listed" such values as they were disposed, the State Tax Commission is undertaking to see that all property is properly assessed and this has caused considerable confusion as the new tax laws are not responsible for assessments which are in accordance with an old and unamended law not generally observed until recently.

It is self-evident that the taxation of all the property known to exist in the State will tend to the reduction of taxes on the one-half now paying taxes and the hesitation to assess mining property while assessments are steadily increasing on farming and other property is not easily understood.

Property is property and as the State Tax Commission says, "The man who is unwilling to pay his just proportion of the taxes is an undesirable citizen." The owners of valuable mining properties should recognize this truth and be disposed to pay property taxes as the owners of other property are required to do, but there is no more reason for subjecting them to a production tax than to make farmers and manufacturers pay on what they produce.

KENTUCKY HEAD OF FUND NAMED

Judge Bingham is Appointed State Chairman of Wilson Foundation

Louisville, Aug. 25.—Announcement of the appointment of Judge Robert W. Bingham as Kentucky chairman of the Woodrow Wilson Foundation was made in New York yesterday by Franklin D. Roosevelt, national chairman.

The appointment was said to have been among the first for the forty-eight State organizations which are to solicit subscriptions late in October for a popular fund for endowing an annual award in the name of former President Wilson.

The specific object has been defined by the Executive Committee, according to Mr. Roosevelt's announcement, in these words:

"Created by public subscription in recognition of the national and international services of Woodrow Wilson, twice President of the United States, who furthered the cause of human freedom and was instrumental in pointing out effective methods for the co-operation of the liberal forces of mankind throughout the world.

"The award or awards from the income of the foundation to the individual or group that has rendered, within a specified period, meritorious service to democracy, public welfare, liberal thought or peace through justice."

Hamilton Holt, editor of the Independent, who is acting as executive director of the foundation, is carrying on the work of organization along nonpartisan lines, aiming merely to provide an opportunity for a public tribute to the cause of liberalism. National headquarters have been established at 150 Nassau Street, New York.

AID FROM THE WAR FINANCE CORPORATION

The bill recently reported out by the Senate Agricultural Committee and bearing Chairman G. W. Norris' name, has had hard sledding in the Senate and is practically moribund.

The bill provides for a Government corporation with capitalization of $100,000,000 and a provision for floating a large issue of bonds. The opponents claim that more good will be accomplished without actually putting the Government into business by enlarging the authority and functions of the War Finance Corporation, which has taken on more life in the last few months and is financing large amounts of agricultural products for shipment abroad.

The first amendment to the Norris bill was offered by Senator F. B. Kellogg, of Minnesota, and it had the backing of the administration. Later Senator Charles L. McNary, of Oregon, introduced an amendment which included all of the Kellogg provisions and still further extended the powers of the War Finance Corporation. This bill has the approval of both the Administration and the Agricultural Bloc. The general principles of the McNary amendment are advocated by the American Farm Bureau Federation. The bill not only provides for credits for exports, but it would also extend credit domestically.

The new measure provides that when in the opinion of the Board of Directors of the War Finance Corporation there has accumulated an abnormal surplus of American agricultural products, as a result of the disruption of export trade due to war conditions, and the ordinary banking facilities are inadequate to enable producers or dealers to carry them until they can be exported in an orderly manner, the War Finance Corporation will have the authority to make the necessary financial advances. These advances may be made for periods not exceeding one year. The corporation also receives authority to render assistance to any person, firm, corporation or association engaged in the marketing of products for export, the advances to bear interest at a rate not exceeding the rate of discount for ninety-day commercial paper prevailing in the Federal Reserve District in which the borrower resides. Like authority is also given the War Finance Corporation to aid banks that make such advances.

"BUILD ME A PLAT- FORM, I WILL SPEAK"

Louisville, Aug. 27.—Billy Sunday is to visit Louisville September 13, the second day of the Kentucky State Fair, and speak at the Merchants and Manufacturers' Building at the Fair Grounds, he has written W. C. Hanna, State Commissioner of Agriculture.

In his letter the noted evangelist told Mr. Hanna exactly what he wants in the way of a stand, pulpit and lights. The letter reads:

"My Dear Hanna: I will speak in Louisville September 13, Tuesday at 2 p. m. I will need to cut my vacation short a week to do this. I begin my fall meetings at Sioux City and had planned to remain here until September 14, going direct from here by way of Omaha.

"Mrs. Sunday will be with me. "Build me a platform at least eight feet high and eight feet broad, and make me a pulpit thirty inches high and two feet square. See that the building is well lighted. Very truly yours, W. A. SUNDAY."

The subject of Mr. Sunday's address has not been announced, but it is understood that the fair management will seek to have him dedicate the new building.

500 A. E. F. DEAD SAVED FROM FIRE ON PIERS

Hoboken, N. J., Aug. 24.—Five hundred bodies of American soldier dead, awaiting shipment to the homes of relatives, were removed in safety late today when fire of unknown origin swept over the army water front reservation here, destroying Piers 5 and 6, and an adjoining army storehouse and barracks.

Pier 4, at which the giant liner Leviathan and the transport Wheaton were docked, was saved with difficulty. The flames licked the sides of the Leviathan, damaging a small section of the woodwork on the bow and the forward mast, but a fireboat wedged its way between the liner and the burning pier and successfully fought off the flames as they spread to the huge craft.

When the fire broke out there were 500 bodies in the large rooms at the junction of Piers 4 and 5. As soon as the alarm was sounded Capt. H. S. Wilbur, officer of the day, called out the entire army personnel, about 150 men, who started removing the bodies. Four hundred longshoremen, on duty at nearby piers, assisted.

One thousand other bodies were lined up on Pier 4, but inasmuch as the flames did not come near them they were not disturbed. The transport Wheaton, which recently arrived here with 5,000 bodies, still had 2,000 aboard when the fire broke out, but it was on the opposite side of the pier from which the fire was located.

JURY IN BAILEY CASE DIS- CHARGED BY CIRCUIT JUDGE

Mt. Vernon, Ky., Aug. 24.—Circuit Judge J. B. Bethurum this afternoon discharged the jury and 100 special talesmen drawn yesterday for the trial of John Bailey for the murder of Beverly White. He ordered the names of 300 men withdrawn from the jury wheel and told the Sheriff to summon the jury commissioners to place other names in the wheel. He announced that the trial of the case will proceed as soon as the new names are drawn from the wheel.

Judge Bethurum held a brief consultation with attorneys for both sides and had a session in his rooms before announcing his decision on the motion. He said:

"I am very sorry for the developments arising when it looked like we had a jury. The defense's attack on one of the panel on alleged irregularity of his selection and trial on that motion developed that a member of the Jury Commission upon completion of his services at the last term of court retained a partial list of probably 100 or 200 names put into the wheel.

Commissioner Violated Duty
"Whether this was done through improper motives or not I do not know, but, assuming that it was not, it constituted a violation of the Commissioner's duty, and because of that fact and in light of the fact that this case was sent to this county for trial on change of venue and is important and holds widespread interest throughout the State I do not think a jury trying the case should be selected from the list supplied by the Jury Commissioner at the last term of court.

"Our purpose is to give the case a fair and impartial trial. Developments of the hearing cast more or less reflection on the jury and on the list contained in the wheel, and I am unwilling to proceed where there is a question of the legality of the proceedings.

"I want the verdict returned by the jury in this case to command the respect of the people of the entire State. The question of improper selection of a jury induced into the case, whether substantiating cause for complaint or not, would cause some question as to the result finally obtained and this is what the court is trying to avoid."

He then directed the Sheriff to bring the jury back into court.

SOME RULING

Several thousand ex-service men, who on their return from France were feted and acclaimed heroes worthy of their country's undying gratitude, are now tramping the streets of our cities seeking in vain for work. But a wise administration rules that adjusted compensation for the days they endured hardship and faced peril at a wage of $1 a day would be bad for their morals and afflict great hardship on the $10-a-day stay at homes and the 23,000 war millionaires.—McLean County News.

THANKS VOTERS

Beaver Dam, Ky., Aug. 24, 1921.
I take this means to express my sincere thanks to the voters who supported me in the late Primary for the nomination for Sheriff. Although I was defeated I hold no malice towards any one who saw fit to support any of my opponents. However, I feel grateful to the honest men and women who supported me without money or the promise of a job. I am a Republican from principle and not for office, I will be found doing all I can for the party's ultimate success.

God grant me this: the right to come at night,

Back to my loved ones, head erect, and true;

Beaten and bruised and from a losing fight,

Let me be proud in what I've tried to do,

Let me come home defeated if I must,

But clean of hands, and honor unimpaired,

Still holding firmly to my children's trust,

Still worthy of the faith which they have shared,

God grant me this: Whatever the fates decree,

Or do I win or lose life's little game, I still would keep my children proud of me,

Nor once regret that they must bear my name.

Thanking the people for their courtesy and hospitality, I beg to remain,

Yours very respectfully,

CARL M. TAYLOR.

NOTICE

—to—

Fordson Owners

We have secured from our Branch at Madisonville, Ky., Mr. O. V. Liles, who needs no introduction to the residents of Ohio County, having spent the greater part of his life here. He is known by most every one in the County.

Mr. Liles is our tractor service man; he will call on every Fordson owner in the County at regular intervals for the purpose of getting better results out of the tractor and tractor implements. He will be glad to tell you anything you wish to know regarding oil, implements and tractors. He will make any adjustment necessary, and will advise if any repairs are necessary.

Mr. Liles' ability as a tractor man and as a gentleman has never been questioned, and we feel that he will be a great advantage to the tractor owners. We would like for you to co-operate with him as we feel that you will be greatly benefited by his service.

There are 39 Fordsons operating successfully in this County, so it will take Mr. Liles several weeks to get round; but if you would like for him to call on you within the next few days, send us a card as we would like for you to get the best results out of your tractor. The lubrication and the operating are of the most importance. All of these Mr. Liles will thoroughly explain when he calls on you. All we ask of you is to co-operate with us, and we will all be benefited.

Yours for better tractor service.
